

April 2023 Newsletter

Announcing New Interactive Map

We are excited to announce that our website now includes a new map of BHP with features that will make it easier than ever to explore the memorials and trails in the BHP area.

We also wanted to take a moment to mention that we utilized the newly released ChatGPT, a powerful AI language model, to help us create some of the content for the links on sections of the park map. This was an innovative and efficient way to ensure that we were providing comprehensive and accurate information to our community.

As part of this new feature, we have added detailed information on the many memorials and sections of our parks not previously available in this format. Using ChatGPT, we were able to create rich and engaging content and graphics that tells the stories behind these important features of our park.

BHP Main Map

The map is best viewed on a larger screen but for those that want to use a smaller mobile device here is a link to use.

BHP Main Map for Mobile

As an excellent example of the expanded content check out the section on Mayor's Grove which is often ignored by visitors.

Mayor's Grove Map

We believe the interactive map and legend will add a new dimension to your experience of BHP and deepen your appreciation of the history and significance of our park.